

Saving Your Dollars and Cents

Bargainist

<http://www.bargainist.com/>

The Bargainist finds the best deals around on just about everything. From gadgets to clothes, you'll always read about the hottest bargains, sales, coupons, and freebies right here. The Bargainist updates multiple times per day, so stop by often to check out the latest deals.

Cheap Cooking

<http://www.cheapcooking.com/index.htm>

From the site owner: Cheap Cooking is a site I set up to provide information and resources for people needing—or wanting—to cut back on their expenses. When I needed to cut back on expenses, I scoured used bookstores and garage sales and libraries for information. I'm trying to gather my favorite tips here, along with enough recipes to spark some imagination.

CheapTweet for Twitter

<http://cheaptweet.com/>

CheapTweet scans Twitter for the best deals, coupons and sales that people are tweeting about. CheapTweet lets users rate deals by saying It's Cheap (it's a good deal) or It's Lame (it's not a good deal). Deals move to the Cheapest Tweets section if they get enough votes. If lots of people talk about a deal, CheapTweet tracks that too and that contributes to a deal getting on the Cheapest Tweets list. (Does not require Twitter account)

CouponTweet for Twitter

<http://www.couponsweet.com/Login.aspx?ReturnUrl=%2fDefault.aspx>

CouponTweet searches Twitter for the best deals and discounts, so you don't have to. You can use CouponTweet to find the best discounts on everything from clothing to electronics on twitter. (Requires Twitter account)

Craigslist

<http://sfbay.craigslist.org/>

Craigslist is made up of local classifieds and forums for 570 cities in 50 countries worldwide. It is community moderated, and posting an ad is largely free. You'll find information on jobs, housing, goods, services, romance, local activities, advice - just about anything really.

Frugal, Freebies, and Deals

<http://www.frugalfreebiesanddeals.com/>

Sections include: Free Movie codes, a series on frugal living, grocery coupons, current giveaways, and some carefully researched recommendations of where you can make money on-line. Also has many links to other money saving websites.

Frugal Village

<http://www.frugalvillage.com/>

Sara Noel knows that being frugal doesn't mean you have to settle. Her column and her website emphasizes simplicity, family values and eco-frugality, inspiring women to discover their passions and rekindle their inner spirit. From cutting down the food bill to finding alternative uses for everyday items, Frugal Living examines smart, easy ways to save money.

Handy Guys Podcast

<http://www.handyguyspodcast.com/>

The Handy Guys are a couple of guys who know a lot and have distinct opinions on the rest with real experience to back it up. They are two guys working together on that "Honey Do" list. (Podcast)

Home DIY Tips Blog

<http://www.homediytips.com/>

Home DIY Tips is a site dedicated to all things DIY. They aim to provide the very best DIY advice, tips, industry news and product reviews for all occasions, both commercial and industrial.

Make Blog

<http://makezine.com/>

From the creators of Make Magazine, their website brings the do-it-yourself mindset to all the technology in your life. Make is loaded with exciting projects that help you make the most of your technology at home and away from home. We celebrate your right to tweak, hack, and bend any technology to your own will.

SmartSource - #1 Online Grocery Coupon Site

<http://coupons.smartsource.com//index.aspx?Link=5S2ZUA6PWPEPO>

SmartSource® is a brand owned by News America Marketing, a subsidiary of News Corporation. News America Marketing is the largest distributor of consumer packaged goods promotions in the U.S. They insert coupons in over 1,160 weekend newspapers, place bright red coupon machines, cart, shelf, and floor ads in 33,000 stores, and provide printable coupons across more than 100 leading websites on the internet.

Tip Nut Blog

<http://tipnut.com/>

From the author- Tipnut.com began as a way to organize all the household tips, craft projects, recipes, kitchen & cooking tips and other neat-o hints that I've collected over the years. It's been expanded to share cool ideas and projects that I've found online (one of the most popular features of Tipnut). This handy resource site now shares over 1,000 tips and projects for you to enjoy! I hope you'll find something useful.

Wiki How

<http://www.wikihow.com/Main-Page>

wikiHow is a collaborative writing project to build the world's largest, highest quality how-to manual. With volunteer contributions, they can create a free resource that helps millions of people by offering solutions to the problems of everyday life.

First Stop During Hard Times
Mountain View Public Library